The Adventure's of Mark by Mark Solari

Two days before Eureka the bus lost power and started to clatter, popped off the valve cover and I said &@*#, broken valve spring. So brought home parts & tools from work and spent Thursday evening replacing the spring. Friday morning headin' out for EUREKA, less than 3 miles from the house & the bus cut out on me and died, now what?? Fortunately, it was just out of gas. Went back home, siphoned gas out of "Little Car" (sorry to Little Car who didn't get to go to Eureka this year). The Thing took 2nd and the Bus & Roger got lots of attention. Lot's of comments about the steering wheel being on the wrong side....after we got back from the parade, we were approached by this guy saying that the bus was stolen from him, apparently he went thru a divorce and his wife sold it out from under him...who knows.

TULSA ROADTRIP - Charles' distributor apparently backed out of the hold down clamp & stopped turning - he got that fixed & back on the road. TULSA was an awesome show, if you weren't there you missed out. Everyone getting ready to split and Duane's Baja had no power to the coil - we all looked at it and then I ran a jumper from the tail light circuit to the coil, so the car would only run with the lights on...but w/club effort it got em' home.
